(Bulletin.)

Washington, April 23.—Encouraging dispatches from the government officials at San Francisco are received almost hourly. The outlook for early resumption of federal business is very bright. With the new postoffice and the mint and appraisers' warehouse practically intact, the most valuable government property in the devastated city was saved, and the biggest bill Uncle Sam will be called upon to pay will be for repairs. Government officials are hard at work bringing order out of chaos and establishing temporary quarters. The President will send a special message to Congress, advocating an immediate appropriation for rebuilding and repairing the government buildings as soon as he learns the amount needed.

Washington, April 23.—Without discussion the House today unanimously adopted the Senate amendments to its joint resolution Saturday, increasing the appropriation for the California sufferers to a million and a half. This makes the total relief appropriations, $2,500,000.

DON'T NEED SURGEONS.
Washington, D. C., April 23.—The surgeon general of the army and officials of the Red Cross announce today that there is no need of additional surgeons and nurses at San Francisco. Many applications have been received for this service, but it is stated that there are plenty of surgeons and nurses on the ground now, and that if any more should go there they would be in the way rather than helpful. No recent advices regarding the outbreak of smallpox have been received beyond the official information given out last night that a few cases had been discovered and that they had been isolated.

NO FEAR OF EPIDEMIC.
San Francisco, April 23.—To avoid further talk about present or possible epidemic the following official announcement has been sent from San Francisco:

"War Department Headquarters, Pacific Division. There is no epidemic of contagious diseases. There is no epidemic of any kind."

"Funston, Smith." Today the state of affairs is such that the hundreds of people who have been housed in temporary shacks or crowded into the homes of property owners who were not burned out, could go on living as they are indefinitely.

VICTOR H. METCALF

John A. Roebing Sons company of Trenton, N. J., whose store and warehouse were destroyed in San Francisco, decided to rebuild at once.

VESUVIUS AND SAN FRANCISCO ASSOCIATED BY MATTEUCCI

Naples, April 23.—Prof. Matteucci, director of the observatory at Mt. Vesuvius, has been busily defending his observatory against the latest attacks of Mt. Vesuvius, which Thursday and Friday renewed its discharges of red-hot stones and again shook the observatory building. Only within a day or two was he able to answer the inquiry of the Associated Press regarding the possible connection between the outbreak of Mt. Vesuvius with the California earthquake. In a telegram from Resina, the nearest telegraph station to the observatory, the professor said:

"Notwithstanding the distance separating Mt. Vesuvius from California, and in spite of lack of exact coincidence between the eruption of the volcano and the earthquake at San Francisco, I believe that a close relation exists between the two phenomena which I consider to be different effects of a common cause."

The surface of the earth since the remote epoch of the formation of its solid crust has suffered laceration by violent internal pressure, thus producing volcanic eruptions or when it resists the pressure of incandescent masses below reproduces them in motions, which we call earthquakes. My opinion is that the eruption and earthquake have reciprocal and intimate connection which is rendered more evident by the present phenomena at Mt. Vesuvius and in California.

IRON WORKS SAVED.
Washington, April 23.—Lieutenant Commander Morgan wired the navy department from Mare Island today: "Visited Union Iron works today. Plant slightly injured. Government vessels undamaged. Date to resume work indefinite."

ROOTS AT THE IDEA.
That the Earthquake Was an Expression of God's Wrath.

Evansville, Ind., April 23.—Rev. T. A. Wigglesworth, pastor of the First Cumberland church, in a sermon yesterday said it was a mistake to think like some of the preachers of this country, that the great earthquake on the coast was a visitation of God's wrath on the wicked city. He held the idea, and said the earthquake was the result of natural causes.

BORN AMONG RUINS

Infant Arrives Among Refugees in the Public Square.

Berkeley, Cal., April 23.—A maternity hospital has been established under the direction of Prof. Maceo at the University of California, where women driven from home by the fire may find aid.

Three healthy infants were born Saturday night. One child was born in the public square. The physicians now have the work of relief well in hand.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 23.—Sydney P. Harris, composer of music, notable among whose pieces is "The Cavalier," came in with the refugees camped to get down in the huge hole and work digging out the ruins sufficiently to evacuate the owners of the buildings in order to have bread for the famished people.

People Were Driven to Work by the Soldiers and Many Gashed and Dropped Dead.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 23.—Sydney P. Harris, composer of music, notable among whose pieces is "The Cavalier," came in with the refugees camped to get down in the huge hole and work digging out the ruins sufficiently to evacuate the owners of the buildings in order to have bread for the famished people.

FORTY CREMATED IN ONE HOUSE;
BONES ARE FOUND

Several Persons Had Been Taken From Upper Floor and it was Thought All Escaped.

San Francisco, April 23.—Forty bodies were taken from the ruins of a building at 115 Fifth street yesterday by the Red Cross service.

The structure which was a four-story wooden building containing three flats of 10 rooms each, collapsed during the earthquake Wednesday morning. At the time several persons were taken out alive from the upper stories, and it was thought all the inmates had escaped.

It is thought the ruins took fire and were consumed. The bodies of those imprisoned within the ruins were burned, only bones being left.

Mrs. Henry Murray and A. J. McNeill and wife lived in this building. They have not been heard of by friends since the fire.

MARRIAGES ARE NECESSARY.
San Francisco, April 23.—Weddings in great number have resulted from the recent disaster. Women driven out of their homes and left destitute have been married to men to whom they were engaged, and immediate marriages have been effected.

Since the first day of the disaster an increase in the number of marriages has been noted, as reported by Rev. C. L. Cook. This increase is getting greater. Saturday morning seven marriage licenses were issued in an hour. Cook himself has been on duty much of the time, as has his deputy, Paul White, although no other business has been transacted.

"I don't know anywhere," is the answer given in many cases when the applicant for a license is asked where his residence is. "I used to live in San Francisco."

way to the parks in hopes of finding relatives in the vast throngs of refugees. A most pitiful sight it was. Yet in all that throng there was scarcely a wet eye or one look of despair. The work of rescue in Oakland continued unabated. Tents sprang up on almost every vacant space and willing citizens were on hand to offer needed aid, from water to food or clothing.

In the western portion of San Francisco the military authorities are rapidly taking possession of the remaining residences, in which people now camped in the parks can be housed and sheltered from the cold until such time as they can be moved across the bay to new homes when built.

Three men were detected by guards in the sub-treasury on Commercial street last night attempting to tear away bricks in one corner of the building. When ordered to throw up their hands they tried to escape. The guards at once shot them dead. Troops guarding the Hibernian bank building at Jones and McAllister streets, found four men attempting to break into that building. The soldiers captured them without firing and turned them over to superior officers to be court-martialed.

Looters broke into Schenfeld's grocery on Octavia street. Women tried to get some provisions but men after liquor trampled them down. Ten men from Company B, Eighth regiment were passing the place and the women appealed to them. J. B. Jordan, son of a real estate agent, who lives in the neighborhood, grabbed a gun from one of the guardsmen and called him "thief." Jordan was shot at once.

Sunday in San Francisco and cities across the bay was devoted to the work of humanity and not religious worship. The work of relief continued unabated. Women served, cooked and ministered to the wants of the needy. The men assisted in the distribution of supplies and the forwarding of refugees to temporary homes.

The fear of an epidemic caused the careful preservation of sanitary laws which together with the heroic efforts of an organized medical corps probably will avert such a calamity. The necessity of quarantining tens of thousands of refugees in the parks is a possibility. Human beings and horses and dogs all huddled together in such close quarters it is almost impossible to prevent the spread of disease, although so far the outlook for epidemic has not developed.

Street railway officials announce the cars will be operated from the city hall through much some of the time. Streets and within a few days temporary service will be established over the greater part of the city. Construction of an entire new system will be begun shortly.

The condition of the homeless and shelterless camped in various portions of the city is remarkably fine, but there is still suffering owing to insufficient food, water and blankets. Two hospitals have been born in various places and open places. In most cases medical attention is free, and of experienced nurses was available.

San Francisco is to spring up again. Favorable signs are a special permit to operate an overhead trolley system and people will be carried free of charge. This will facilitate the transportation of homeless people across the bay, where temporary homes can be provided while reconstruction is in progress.

The financial men say that considering the extent of the catastrophe there is absolutely no panic of any kind now. Instead every one is cheerful, even enthusiastic over the prospects for the future. The citizens have banded together in determination not only to reconstruct but to establish a far more beautiful city than the one they lost.

Games of men will be set to work at once to clear the debris from the streets. (Continued on page 7, 2d col.)

FATHER GAPON IS MURDERED

Leader of Workingmen in Russia Said to Have Been a Spy

REPORTED HANGED APRIL 10

PRIEST, CAUGHT IN VILLA OF A FRIEND
IN RUSSIA

Concealed Men Rushed Upon Him in Room and Hanged Priest to the Ceiling.

Manchester, Eng., April 23.—The Guardian states today that Father Gapon, former leader of the St. Petersburg workingmen, was hanged by the revolutionists April 10.

Father Gapon was the leader of the workingmen in the demonstration of Red Sunday in January, 1905. He was compelled to flee from the city and later was accused by the revolutionists of betraying their cause and selling them out to the government. His dispatches several days ago announced that Gapon had disappeared and that an appeal had been made to the police to find him, as foul play was feared.

In giving particulars in regard to the reported hanging of the former priest, the Guardian adds that the dealing out of a summary punishment to Father Gapon resulted from his attempt to induce a friend to act as a spy upon the revolutionary leaders. The proposal made by Father Gapon was reported to the revolutionists, who determined upon his death.

The friend to whom he made the proposals invited the former priest to his villa to talk the matter over and four revolutionists who had been concealed in the house overheard the conversation.

Father Gapon was told that he would be exposed as a spy and repudiated.

"I would deny it and no one would believe the charge."

At this the concealed men rushed into the room, seized Father Gapon, and hanged him to the ceiling of the sitting room.

GOVERNOR'S CONDITION

Cincinnati, April 23.—A slight change was noticeable in the condition of Governor Patterson yesterday, but not enough to alarm his physicians. The change was probably due to the lowered temperature and which he dealt with a slight chill the noon session revived him. After the noon session a message began to arrive, at which the governor read. At this time he was also a number of letters all of whom however were denied admittance to the sick room by order of the attending physicians.

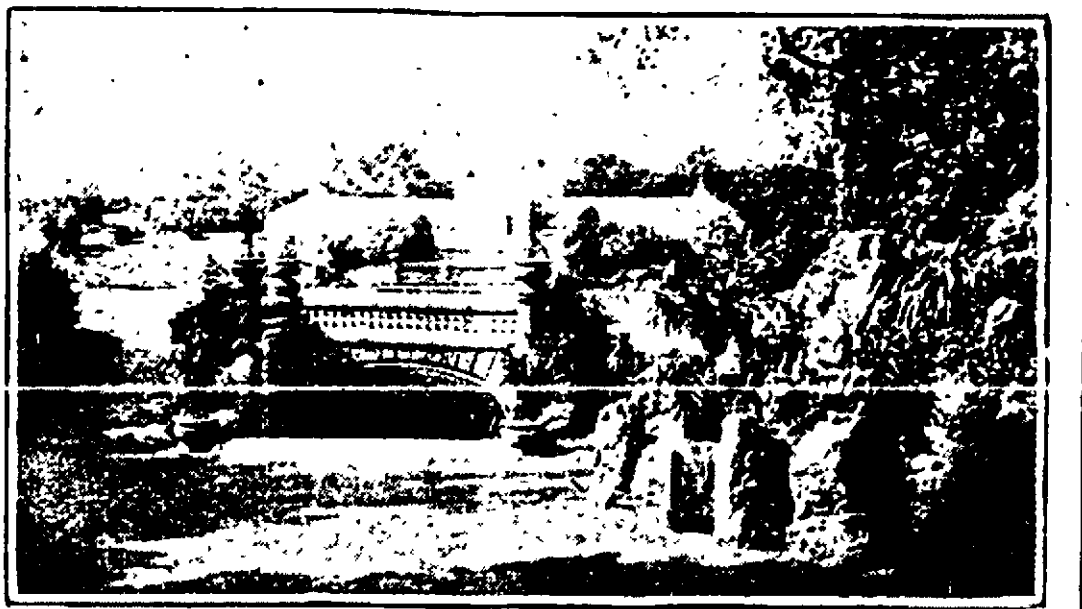

The governor spent the greater part of the afternoon in conversation with his wife and in reading about the San Francisco disaster.

mated as Precaution.

San Francisco, April 23.—The total number of bodies recovered and buried up to Sunday night is 500. No complete record can be had at this time, as many bodies have been buried without permits from the coroner and the board of health.

The circumference of the area of the great conflagration as near as could be ascertained by the marking of a cyclometer was 26 miles and comprises the entire business district and a large section of the residence district, all of which was densely populated. It is estimated today by competent insurance authorities that the loss will aggregate $300,000,000 and on this vast amount of property the insurance companies carried approximately $175,000,000 insurance.

Everywhere throughout the burned and the remaining sections of the city there is the greatest of activity. Streets are being cleared of debris, laborers are repairing broken water pipes, sewers and gas mains, electricians everywhere are seeking to untangle the almost hopeless confusion of wires—in fact, San Francisco is in the first stages of its regeneration.

There are no hungry people now. The gaunt spectre of starvation has been banished by the magnificent response of the people of California in particular and by the entire nation in general to the appeals that went out for assistance. Food by the car load and boat load poured into Oakland, and in sufficient quantities to overwhelm the committee which has in charge its distribution. So great was the volume of foodstuffs brought into the general depot at Oakland mole that the general committee made an appeal for skilled labor in the handling of these supplies.

FEEDING THE HOMELESS.

The homeless people are no longer obliged to subsist upon bread and canned stuff entirely as they had been during the previous days of their trying experience, but were today given hot coffee, canned meats and even cakes and oranges. Oranges have come in in plentiful supply from southern California, and the sight of California's famous product was everywhere hailed with words of delight.

The health of scores of thousands camped in the open air is, under the circumstances, remarkably good. There have, of course, been several cases of pneumonia reported and colds are quite common, but there is nothing like an epidemic of pulmonary troubles. The board of health reports that there is very little contagious disease. For the treatment of those cases, hospitals have been provided. An interesting item from the Golden park district was the report of the birth of 18 babies. These cases have received prompt and efficient attention and the mothers and children removed to the various maternity hospitals.

The water situation, while causing inconvenience to the people, is no longer such a problem. About two-thirds of the remaining section of the city is being supplied with sufficient water for the pressing domestic needs, but of course there is not yet enough to be had for fire fighting purposes. Because of this fact the most stringent orders have been issued by the military and civil police that no fires shall be built within any house and no lights, not even a candle, can be shown at night in the houses. All cooking for the present must be done on the sidewalks or in the open streets in daylight.

BURNING THE BODIES.

Two hundred bodies found in the Potrero district south of Shannon street, in the vicinity of the Union Iron works, were cremated at the SIX Mile house by the order of Coroner Walsh. This information was obtained at the board of health headquarters. Some of the dead were victims of falling buildings, some were killed in the fire, but it is believed by the board of health that the majority died from pneumonia poisoning. So many dead were found in this limited area that cremation was deemed absolutely necessary to prevent disease. The names of some of the dead were learned, but in the majority of cases identification was impossible owing to the mutilation of the features. A systematic search for bodies of the victims of the earthquake and fire is being made by the coroner and state board of health inspectors. The city has been divided into sanitary districts and squads of searchers have been sent out to every quarter.

On the steps of the shattered churches and on the green slopes of parks and cemeteries the people of San Francisco assembled at the usual hours for religious services, grateful for the opportunity to publicly express thanks for their preservation and anxious for the words of cheer and comfort that will carry them through future trials. There was no distinction as to sect or denomination, the gatherings including, as a rule, a large percentage of the families camping or residing in the vicinity. Catholic clergymen celebrated mass in the Jewish cemetery and every creed knelt with bowed heads while the services were in progress.

BIG BUILDINGS ESCAPE.

Many of the substantial business men and property owners of San Francisco already are in consultation with architects. While the work of clearing away the debris goes forward a corps of draughtsmen will be busily occupied preparing plans for the new buildings to adorn the city.

C. C. Lindgren of the San Francisco-Fresno contracting firm of Lindgren-Hicks Co., said that the disaster is to have no deterrent effect on projected skyscrapers for San Francisco and that many of the great buildings reported destroyed can be rehabilitated—some at no great expense. Herbert Law is going ahead with the repair of the Fairmont hotel. Lindgren examined the ruins and said that it would be necessary to rebuild the first two stories. The Lindgren-Hicks Co. also have a contract for building a $500,000 annex to the Fairmont, containing the largest theatre in San Francisco. Lindgren obtained a permit from Governor Pardee and Mayor Schmitz to make an examination of some of the principal buildings still standing and the result of his inspection is reassuring. He says the Haywards building is only slightly damaged and can be repaired at small cost. The Merchants' Exchange, while badly gutted, can be repaired at an expenditure of about $200,000 or $300,000. The building cost $6,000,000. The front of the Rialto building will stand, but the rear was dynamited. Other buildings in the burnt district that have withstood the ravages of the flames, to admit of rebuilding are the James Flood, the Union Trust, the new Chronicle, the Call, the Mutual Savings, the Crocker-Woolworth and the St. Francis hotel. Buildings that are practically undamaged are the new postoffice, which was reported in ruins, the mint, and the old custom house.

FIRE CHIEF DEAD.

San Francisco, April 23.—Fire Chief D. J. Sullivan of San Francisco's fire department is dead from the effects of injuries received on the morning of the earthquake. Chief Sullivan and his wife were sleeping in the fire house adjoining the California hotel of the Earthquake.

on Bush street. The earthquake shook down the chimney of the hotel and sent it crashing through the fire house. Chief Sullivan and his wife were carried with the debris two stories to the ground floor, where they were extricated after great difficulty. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan were at once taken to the Southern Pacific hospital, but when the flames reached the Mission they were again removed, this time to the General hospital at the Presidio. It was found that Mr. Sullivan was suffering from a fractured skull, four broken ribs and other injuries.

PLIGHT OF CHINESE.

San Francisco, April 23.—One of the first problems facing the relief committees on both sides of the bay is the sheltering of the Chinese. Most of them, former rich and poor alike, are absolutely penniless and destitute. It has long been a question in San Francisco what should be done with Chinatown, and moving the Chinese in the direction of Colma has been agitated. Now they are without homes and without prospects of securing any. They can get no land. The limits of Oakland's Chinatown have already been extended and the strictest police regulations are in force to prevent further enlargement. On this side of the bay they are camping in open lots, but of course, this is the merest temporary shelter. Unless the government undertakes their relief, they are in grave danger. Those who have money can not purchase property, as one will sell to them.

Mint Saved.

San Francisco, April 23.—One landmark of San Francisco that was saved from destruction, though the surrounding buildings were destroyed, is the mint at the corner of Fifth and Mission streets. Harold French, an employee of the mint, gave a graphic account of how the flames were successfully fought. He said: "Nearly two hundred million dollars in coin and bullion are stored in the vaults of the mint, and for the preservation of this prize a devoted band of employees, reinforced by regular soldiers, fought until the baffled flames fled to the conquest of stately blocks of so-called fire proof buildings. For seven hours a sea of fire surged around the building, attacking it on all sides. Its little garrison was cut off from retreat for hours at a time, had such a course been thought of by those on guard."

CLIFF HOUSE STANDS.

San Francisco, April 23.—A thorough inspection made by a representative of the Associated Press, who made the trip in an automobile, shows that comparatively little damage was done in the vicinity of the Cliff. The Cliff House not only stands, but the damage sustained from the earthquake shock at this historic building will not exceed, according to the statement of Manager Wilkins, $500. In fact, the escape of the Cliff House is one of the curious features of the disaster which has befallen San Francisco. The famous Sutro baths, located near the Cliff House, with its hundreds of thousands of square feet of glass roofing, was practically unharmed.

THREE HUNDRED DEAD.

Washington, April 23.—The loss of life at San Francisco is placed at less than 300 in a telegram addressed to Secretary of Treasury Shaw by Superintendent of the Mint Leach. The telegram is dated at Oakland, and is as follows: "Stories of loss of life greatly exaggerated. Have been in it every day from the first. Have men reporting to me continually from all parts of the city, and I do not believe the list will reach 400. My estimate from statements to me will not reach 300. The fire did not travel fast and the authorities took trouble to keep ahead of flames, notifying people of the danger and caring for the helpless."

Asylum Victims.

San Francisco, April 23.—A dispatch from Agnew's says the work of taking out the bodies of patients who were killed in the wreck of the insane asylum buildings is still going on. At the present time it is estimated that at least 100 are dead. The cupola over the administration department went down and all the wards in that part of the building collapsed. Twelve attendants were killed, and Dr. Kelly, second assistant physician, was instantly crushed to death. There were 1,100 patients in the hospital, and C. L. Seardec, secretary of the state commission on lunacy, who has been here attending to official business, declares that it is a marvel that many more were not killed. Dr. T. W. Hitch, superintendent of state hospital service, is in charge of the work of relief.

NO FRICTION EXISTS.

Washington, April 23.—Secretary Taft's attention having been directed to the reports that friction existed at San Francisco between General Funston and Mayor Schmitz, he sent a message to General Funston asking for the facts in the case. General Funston's reply was received at the war department, and read as follows: "Report of disagreement between Mayor Schmitz and myself must be based on the excited imagination of some overworked newspaper correspondent. Mayor Schmitz and myself have been working together in the unity of doing great work and we are helping to the extent of our ability and apparently to the satisfaction of every friend of the community and all unfortunate people of the city. The department also received telegrams from Mayor Schmitz on this subject. Mayor Schmitz said: 'Report of conflict between General Funston and myself absolutely without foundation. We are not only without difference, but are cooperating in the utmost friendship and harmony.'"

To Sons of Veterans.

Cincinnati, O., April 23.—Commander in Chief H. V. Spielman has issued the following appeal to the order of Sons of Veterans: "As our fathers rallied to the support of the union in 1861, let us now respond to duty's call by giving succor to the thousands of unfortunates who are victims of the terrible San Francisco catastrophe. Contributions should be sent to Division Commander George W. Conant, Bullard building, Los Angeles, California."

Lumber Town Destroyed.

LODGERS BURNED IN DEBRIS

Fire Followed in a Number of Instances, Roasting Alive Many Victims of the Earthquake—Scenes and Incidents About the Stricken Metropolis of the Coast.

San Francisco, April 23.—Between three hundred and four hundred persons, it is believed, perished in the humbler quarters of San Francisco, as a result of the terrible earthquake and the subsequent fire. South of Market street the loss of life was mostly brought about by the collapsing of many cheap and crowded lodging houses. Among others, the caving in of the Royal, corner Fourth and Minna streets, added to the horror of the situation by the shrieks of its many scores of victims imbedded in the ruins. The collapsing of the Portland house on Sixth between Mission and Market came about in a similar manner. Fully 60 persons were entombed, amidst the crash of lumber and brick. Many of these were saved before the fire eventually crept to the scene. The large five-story Brunswick rooming house with its 300 rooms filled with guests on the corner of Sixth and Mowat streets, collapsed entirely, and fire started amidst the ruins scarcely five minutes later. It is estimated that over 300 persons lost their lives. Part of the large Cosmopolitan house, corner Fifth and Mission streets, collapsed at the very first tremble. Many of the sleepers were buried in the ruins; others escaped in their night clothes. At 775 Mission street, the Wilson house, with its four stories and 80 rooms, fell to the ground a mass of ruins. As far as known, very few of the inmates were rescued. The Denver, on lower Third street, with its many rooms, shared the same fate, and none may ever know how many were killed, the majority of the inmates being strangers.

The board of health reports a very encouraging health condition considering the circumstances. Sickness is constantly on the decrease. There are very few contagious diseases, and those are being attended at Decker Lodge in Golden Gate park. Sanitary conditions in the residence districts are being improved.

Most of the sickness is among the people who are living out of doors, and it is upon these cases that the board of health is concentrating most of its attention. Hundreds of volunteer doctors, dentists, nurses and helpers are at work allying suffering. Every since the fire broke out there has been no lack of volunteers for every kind of work.

Some 300 houses lying on the south and east slopes of Telegraph Hill remain to attest the efficacy of the juice of the grape in quenching the flames when water failed, for in this quarter the householders, many of whom are Italians, saved their abodes by a free use of the red wine stored in their cellars.

Dead in Santa Rosa.

Sacramento, Cal., April 23.—Santa Rosa, in proportion to its size, suffered worse than San Francisco. The list of dead from Santa Rosa numbers about 60, but a great number of persons are missing and still greater number more or less seriously injured. As in the case of San Francisco, an admirable organization has the situation well in hand. Forty sailors from Mare Island, fully equipped with apparatus, are at work, while volunteer work has been unstinted. Santa Rosa has suffered the greatest disaster in her history, but the indomitable spirit of her people has been shown all along the line.

Lighthouse Destroyed.

Astoria, Ore., April 23.—The steamer Alliance, which arrived from Eureka, reports that the Point Arena lighthouse was destroyed by the earthquake. The vessel while off Eureka Wednesday morning was severely shaken. The captain thought the vessel had struck bottom, but after making soundings found that she was in 12 fathoms of water. The captain became alarmed and changed his course to westward.

Ohioans Safe.

Los Angeles, April 23.—Among the eastern refugees from San Francisco who arrived here are the following: F. Lund, general sales agent of the Dover Manufacturing company of Dover, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. George Stahley; Miss Sarah Stahley; Dr. E. Holt; T. E. Root, all of Cincinnati; Frank Fracell, Pennsylvania.

Condemn Americans.

St. Petersburg, April 23.—Twenty-five Russian authors, headed by M. Cherekov, author of the drama "The Jew," and M. Kuprin, author of "The Duel," today published a resolution condemning Americans for their treatment of Maxim Gorky. "The American authors represented by Mark Twain," the resolution says, "have insulted Russian authors in the person of M. Gorky and Russian womanhood in the person of Mme. Andrieva by interfering in their private affairs. We Russian authors are amazed at such disregard of the principles of privacy recognized by every civilized country, and hereby express our deep indignation."

MILLET'S FAMED "MAN WITH A HOE," DESTROYED WITH CROCKER RESIDENCE.

Man with the Hoe.
By J. F. Millet.

New York, April 23.—Though the earthquake cannot be definitely held responsible for the time being of million importance, the San Francisco earthquake has cost the Metropolitan Museum of New York fully one hundred canvasses of note.

The late C. P. Huntington left his entire collection of paintings to the Metropolitan, to be turned over to that organization after the death of Mrs. Huntington and her son. Certain of the pictures are now in the Huntington residence in Fifth avenue, others are at the Huntington country place at Throggs Neck. Hope at San Francisco.

The sun of hope rose over San Francisco yesterday and the reports from there were of a most optimistic character. The relief committee stated that the actual needs of all the surviving victims of the disaster, as far as food and water were concerned, were being supplied. The governor of California reported that shelter and medical stores were the chief things needed; that there was not epidemic and that he did not think it would be necessary to establish quarantine; also that the work of rebuilding had been commenced.

More Presidential Indiscretion.

(New York World.)
If Mr. Debs or Mr. Hearst had denounced a decision of a United States court as "a miscarriage of justice," we should have known what to think. If either of them had insisted that this decision "comes measurably near making the law a farce," we should not be greatly astonished. Or if either of them had supplemented this opinion with the declaration that "I can hardly believe that the ruling of Judge Humphreys will be followed by other as a matter of course. Our Social judges," we might have accepted it. It is friends do not pretend to think highly of the Federal courts. Mr. Debs has had unpleasant personal experiences with them, and Mr. Hearst regards them as obstacles to some of his Socialistic measures.

But when Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, undertakes to criticize in a measure to Congress the decisions of the judiciary, it is quite another matter. He stands in a different light than Mr. Debs or Mr. Hearst or Mr. Bryan. He represents the executive department of the Federal Government, and it is even more improper for him to criticize a court decision than it would be for the courts to denounce his conduct in the discharge of his constitutional duties.

Moreover, he has the power to nominate judges. When he criticizes a decision does this not serve as a notice to other judges that if they refuse to construe the law in accordance with the President's wishes they need not hope for promotion?

We do not assume that Mr. Roosevelt ever intended that such an inference should be drawn from his message. It merely shows the recklessness and carelessness with which he criticizes everybody and everything that crosses his path.

Isthmian Conditions Alred By Chairman of Canal Commission.
New York, April 23.—Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the Panama canal commission, who arrived in this city today from the Isthmus spoke enthusiastically of the condition of affairs in the canal zone and highly praised the work of Chief Engineer Stevens. The effective working force on April 1 numbered 17,641 persons. Health conditions, Mr. Shonts said, are most satisfactory, the sick rate being 20 in 1,000. There were 450 vacant beds in the hospitals during March.
Mr. Shonts met on the Isthmus by appointment R. P. Schwerin, vice president and general manager of the Pacific Mail Steamship company for conference relative to the interchange of traffic between the Panama railroad and the Pacific Mail company. A demonstration of the facilities of the Panama railroad for handling traffic resulted in the settlement of all differences. Mr. Shonts said that there has been no congestion of freight on the Isthmus since December.

STATE CONTROL OF COMPANIES

RECOMMENDED BY INSURANCE COMMISSIONER VORYS IN REPORT.

Submitted to Governor Patterson on Monday—Would Compel Economy and Honesty.

Columbus, April 23.—Hon. A. I. Vorys, state superintendent of insurance, has completed that portion of his annual report relating to life insurance, which was filed with the governor on Monday.

He discusses at considerable length the recent sensational disclosures regarding the management of some of the larger insurance companies of the country, and waste of the funds, which belong to the policy holders, in the princely salaries paid officers and attorneys and the large contributions to campaign committees.

Commissioner Vorys takes a decided stand in favor of legislation fixing a standard form of policy and the filing of annual reports of dividends. Such state control, he thinks, would serve to compel economy, honesty, and capability in management, and at the same time provide for the substantial benefits and protection of both policy holders and company.

Discussing this matter further, Mr. Vorys said:
"The tendency of the companies is not toward uniform, but toward differing forms of policies. Uniformity in this respect, therefore, cannot be expected unless the law shall establish standard forms of policies. It is the control which the state should exercise."

"Naturally there is opposition to any dictation by the state of the terms in which individuals and corporations shall contract with each other respecting a legitimate subject matter and with which the law does not ordinarily interfere."

"Specifically, it is urged, that desirable forms have been inspired by competition, that such dictation by the state will prevent such competition, that forms designed by the state will differ in different states, will lack the genius of the expert and will furnish policy holders less favorable contracts than are now obtainable."

"When it is asserted that statutory forms will tend to eliminate deceptive, misleading and ambiguous contracts, it is suggested, that power to forbid any such contracts be given to the superintendent of insurance. It would seem that with painstaking efforts and the co-operation of the experts of the several companies, standard forms could be designed which would protect the rights of both policy holders and company."

After reciting that monopoly which inspires regulations against trusts and railroad rates is not the source of discontent about life insurance and showing how exposure in recent investigations have given the public light on the business and its management the report continues:

"Under the encouragement which the law, in order to develop resources and promote commerce, has given corporations, their aggrandizement, power and influence have in many instances, reached such proportions that the individual can no longer be said to have free and equal rights in dealing with them. Therefore, a general feeling prevails that the state or the government should control or supervise dealings, formerly considered matters of private contract, with which the law did not interfere."

"The recent conspicuous efforts in this direction are those against combinations to control trade in particular commodities, against discrimination and unreasonable railroad rates, and attempts to regulate the management of life insurance."

"Monopoly, one of the chief sources of opposition to trusts and railroads, does not inspire the attempts at controlling the management of life insurance. Conditions which allow the stifling of competition in trade in commodities or in transportation facilities can scarcely obtain in life insurance. Other considerations led to the discontent respecting life insurance and to demands for greater control by the state over its management."

"Voluntary exposure following discussions between officers of one company, led to investigations wherein disclosures were sensational enough to elicit public attention. From this resulted general inquiry and study, and a general knowledge of the business and methods of operations that will enable the public better to analyze the relative merits of different plans of insurance and different managements, a knowledge that realizes there is no magic or great mystery in life insurance, but that its essential features may be understood by ordinary individuals and that unfaithfulness may develop and exist there as well as in other enterprises. This present general conception is intelligent when compared with the clouded notion once so prevalent, that the science and business of life insurance is a sealed book whose mysteries can not be penetrated by the ordinary individual. This enlightened intelligence and the study and efforts toward a more economic operation of this important institution by the profound and experienced as well as the unskilled and superficial will surely result in more wholesome conditions in all quarters."

"There is now a clearer apprehension of the relations between the policy holders and the managers of the company and the functions of the state department."

Mr. Vorys says that in the present agitation and discussion concerning the management of insurance companies, there is probably more unanimity in the condemnation of deferred dividends than any other feature, not so much because of their forfeitures by lapse of policy or that the dividends were so far short of what might have been paid, but because they were so much less than the initial estimates. Deferred dividends, he says, have been disappointing to many and are now unpopular and so condemned by public sentiment that even before the law has forbidden them, anew form of the same allurement is invented in the offer of a policy together with stock or shares in the company or in an auxiliary company and estimates of future dividends thereon.

Commissioner Vorys takes the view that control of the management by the policy holders is impossible, for the reason that their individual interests are so insignificant when compared to the whole, that there would be no incentive to intelligent co-operation or control over the management. This is his answer to those who favor such a plan instead of state control. The report recites that two legal reserve companies were admitted during the year. Three assessment associations ceased doing business.

There are 15 life insurance organizations incorporated under laws of this state, outside of fraternal and all were examined by the department in 1905. The aggregate income in 1905 of the 52 legal reserve companies was $624,472,130, of which $500,219,462 was for premiums. The excess of income over disbursements was $219,860,721. The gross assets were $2,711,302,484. Surplus over liabilities, $171,046,742. Policies in force December 31, 1905, were 21,556,131, carrying $13,067,604,204 insurance. The net increase in 1905 was 1,465,458 policies and $717,721,374 insurance.

In Ohio there were 1,390,536 policies in force December 31, 1905, carrying $713,520,948 insurance, of which 1,057,245 policies carrying $188,842,690 insurance are industrial. The net increase of insurance in force in Ohio in 1905 was $37,013,429. The increase of 1904 over 1903 was $51,584,088. The aggregate premiums in Ohio in 1905, were $25,752,698 and losses incurred, $8,403,821.

DRESSED AS A MAN GIRL IS A HOBO

SOUTHERN GIRL GIVES UP HOME AND HEATS HER WAY TO SALT LAKE CITY.

Slip of the Tongue Arouses Suspicion and Her Sex is Discovered. Is Now III.

Colorado Springs, April 23.—There is much mystery regarding the identity of a young woman picked up in the Midland yards in this city Friday. Attired in man's clothing she had traveled all the way from Salt Lake City as a hobo. A slip of her tongue, coupled with her fragile health, made a railroad man suspicious, and finally led to a confession from her of her real sex.

A southern beauty, and once mistress of her father's slaves, who remained with the family after the war, these has come a change in the girl's life that makes her wish to keep her identity a mystery and the unfortunate plight in which she now finds herself a secret from her family. This much has been wrung from her by the railroad man who took pity on her, and the family with whom she has now been placed in this city.

"You may call me Bessie," she said to the railroad man, and all efforts to get her to tell her real name have proved futile. Although the police will admit nothing, it is known that they have been communicated with and are now making an investigation. Meanwhile the girl is in hiding. Those in whom she has confided refuse to tell her whereabouts.

"I came west four years ago, no matter for what purpose," she said. "That is something I shall never reveal. My family shall never know that I am out here and trying to beat my way home again. I have not found things as I expected I should. I had no money with which to purchase a ticket east, and I had read of girls beating their way and resolved to try this method."

"I packed my trunk and with the small amount of money I had bought a suit of men's clothing. Then I wrote a note to my landlady telling her that I was leaving the city and would send for my trunk later. That night I started out."

The distress of the girl over having her sex discovered has made her ill. After much persuasion she gave the address of her landlady as a house on West Fifth street, Salt Lake City, who has been wired to send "Bessie's" trunk. Meanwhile the detectives who are working on the case may be able to unravel the mystery.

The girl is bordering on her twenties. She is of slight form, hardly weighing 100 pounds. Her type is distinctly southern and the pathetic expression of her face has appealed to the family which is now befriending her. She is a brunette, with hair almost black and large eyes which show the sadness which she feels. That her secret is a romantic one is believed from the little she has told, and the theory is that the girl left her southern home and came west expecting to be married. The girl's home is at Richmond, Va., although she says the family recently removed to New York City. She might still have been traveling eastward had she not, almost in a faint, appealed to the conductor of the freight train for aid when suffering from hunger and thirst.

Lafollette on Rate Bill.

Washington, April 23.—Senator Lafollette continued his address in the United States senate on the railroad rate bill, devoting his special attention to the subject of over-valuation of railroads and contending for an amendment to the bill authorizing the interstate commerce commission to determine the correct valuation of railroad property as the only proper means of arriving at just and reasonable rates. There is as yet no definite understanding as to who will follow him, but it is probable that Senator Spooner will do so. Indeed, there has been no definite announcement that any other senator would desire to make a general speech on the railroad subject, and it is therefore probable that no one else has completed the preparation of a speech.

COW BOYS CLASH WITH OFFICERS

In a Desperate Battle With Officers on the Public Square of Richmond, Missouri.

Richmond, Mo., April 23.—"Skip" Wilson, one of the proprietors of a wild west show, is dead, and his partner, William Duval, is fatally injured as the result of a battle with officers on the public square. The fight was between four officers on one side and a band of cowboys, led by Wilson and Duval, on the other. None of the officers was injured. After the battle the cowboys scattered, and it is not known whether or not any of them were hit. The fight was the result of an attempt to arrest Wilson for an offense. It is said, he committed when his show appeared here last fall.

Dust Explosion in a Colorado Mine. The Victims.

Trinidad, Colo., April 23.—As the result of a dust explosion in a mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, 40 miles west of Trinidad, 22 miners are known to be dead and one other is missing. There is little hope of finding him alive. There were 40 men in the mine at the time of the explosion. Seventeen miners who were working 3,700 feet from the entrance escaped uninjured through another opening. The explosion occurred in rooms 3 and 4 near the main entrance and was the result of a windy shot which ignited the dust. The mine was not badly damaged and work can be resumed in a couple of days. The mine gave employment to 180 men. Miners from adjacent camps are assisting in the rescue work. General Superintendent Robert O'Neill left here on a special train and is personally directing the rescue work. Among the dead is James E. Reed, fire boss. Most of the others are Italians and Japanese.

MURDER CASE BEGAN MONDAY GEORGE KERLIN IS DEFENDANT

The Greater Part of the Day Spent in Securing a Jury to Try the Alleged Murderer of Charles Higgins Last Summer.

At 10:30 p. m. Monday, the 21st inst., the jury men were agreed upon to act as jurors in the Kerlin murder trial:

The Kerlin murder trial, in which George Kerlin is charged with the killing of Charles Higgins, and the first of the series of murder trials in connection with the strike of the polishers employed at the Wehrle stove foundry here, was begun in Common Pleas court, Monday morning before Judge C. W. Seward. George Kerlin, the defendant, is charged with having shot and killed Charles Higgins, at a resort at 145 Railroad street, on the night of November 11, 1905, when Higgins was being employed as a polisher at the Wehrle works during the strike of the Polishers and Buffers' union, of which Kerlin was a member.

Cooksey, Louis Kussmaul, Edward Parsons, William J. Mossman, James Bricker, Thomas D. Keyes, W. Woodruff, W. V. Davis, Frank Owens, Hugh Ellis, Charles W. Smith, Jacob Rickley, J. O. Fisher, H. J. ## MERCURY A DECEPTIVE TREATMENT

Mercury and potash are very deceptive treatments and the blood poison sufferer who depends on them for a cure is sure to be disappointed. These minerals will remove the external symptoms and shut the disease up in the system for a while, but the trouble will surely return and the loathsome symptoms of sore mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers etc., will be accompanied by the disastrous effects of the treatment. The continued use of these strong minerals will completely ruin the health and weaken the system to such an extent that the original disease often becomes incurable and sometimes fatal. Mercury and potash eat out the delicate lining of the stomach and bowels, destroy the gastric juices, producing chronic dyspepsia, cause mercurial rheumatism, salivation, and where they are taken in large quantities cause necrosis or decay of the bones. S. S. S. is the only remedy that can cure Contagious Blood Poison surely and safely. This remedy of nature, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, antidotes and destroys the powerful virus of the disease and by purifying the blood of every particle of the poison and enriching and strengthening this vital fluid it removes every symptom and leaves the body in a strong, healthy condition. When the blood has been purified with S. S. S. the cure is complete, and not one vestige of the poison is left for future outbreaks. Do not waste valuable time, and damage your health with the mineral treatment, but cure your case with S. S. S., an absolutely safe remedy. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral. Book with instructions for self treatment and medical advice without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Garmen Staley has commenced a suit in the Common Pleas court against Mary E. Richards. Plaintiff says that on December 8, Dr. S. S. Richards, husband of the defendant, and acting as her agent, requested the plaintiff to procure a purchaser for property owned by the defendant in Jersey, consisting of a parcel of land with dwelling house, doctor's office and other appurtenances, on the following conditions: That the purchaser should be a practical physician and surgeon, and that the property, if sold to such prospective purchaser should be enhanced in value by the good will of a doctor's practice, to be $2,500, an estimated value of the real estate being $1,500, and the doctor's practice and good will being $1,000.

VOLUNTEERS

Will be Examined Until the Legality of the Drake Commission is Determined.

Columbus, Ohio, April 23.—Senator Thomas P. Schmitt, secretary of the Drake commission, came down from Cleveland Sunday and spent the entire afternoon in consultation with Attorney James M. Butler, who has been retained to defend the legality of the resolution creating the commission, held to be invalid by Judge Smith. The conference will be continued today and a call will be made upon Attorney General Wade H. Ellis.

The Senator announces that regardless of the decision of Judge Smith, the commission will proceed to take testimony next Tuesday. He infers that there is plenty of volunteer evidence and if there is a refusal to answer questions because of the decree of the court, there is a sufficient amount of such testimony to keep the commission at work for a few days. He stated that it has not been positively decided what procedure will follow, and it may be that an effort will be made to get an original petition filed in the Supreme court as soon as possible, thus putting to an end all delay in carrying the case up. Senator Schmitt positively denies that he at any time made any reference to Judge Smith as being a "Cox Judge" when giving an expression upon the decision. He still insists that no politics will enter into the committee's work so far as he or any other member is concerned, and Democrats will suffer alike with Republicans if there are such needs.

streets. This will afford work for thousands. Already notices of work for hundreds are springing up in show windows and on posts. Many demands for gangs of men to work in various places of the state are received. Many concerns are opening temporary quarters in Oakland. Large employers announce they will care for employees until such time as they can be put back to work.

The grand total of the relief fund here Sunday was $1,154,000. There is no danger of suffering from lack of food or needed clothing.

T. C. Cooper, attorney for the fire insurance underwriters, says there is no disposition to raise any question as to the liability for earthquake damage. The insurance board is to meet to formulate plans for the speedy payment of losses. Lost or burned policies will be honored.

VESUVIUS MAY DESTROY NAPLES

The Historic Volcanic Mountain May Some Time Explode Like a Boiler.

(By Giovanni Conte.)

Rome, April 23.—I have just returned from Naples where I remained six days.

I must confess that on leaving Rome I hoped that the details of the Vesuvius eruptions, such as given by the press, had been exaggerated, and that the catastrophe had not reached the magnitude generally believed. But a few hours' stay in Naples sufficed to change my opinion. The newspapers were right; the tragedy had been awful, the catastrophe is such that I find it almost impossible to describe it in all its horrifying magnificence.

The loss of lives is appalling and one of the richest regions of Italy has been completely destroyed.

And that Naples, the wonderfully beautiful city, so full of life, activity and historic remembrances, was not entombed under the scorching lava is little short of a miracle.

I was fortunate enough to interview Professor Matteucci, the hero of the day, the sage who challenged death a thousand times from his observatory on Mt. Vesuvius, which he refused to leave, with the devotion of a pathologist who inoculates himself with the poisonous virus of yellow fever in order to benefit humanity.

"What surprises me most," said Matteucci, "is that we did not have a second edition of Mt. Pelée, and that Naples is not a St. Pierre today. I was expecting at every moment that the sea would precipitate itself into Vesuvius and cause the mountain to burst like a boiler." It was this that caused the destruction of St. Pierre. Now the danger is over; but sooner or later it will be destroyed. One day the waters of the Mediterranean will open themselves a passage, and fall into the volcano, producing an enormous condensation of steam; the crater of Mt. Vesuvius will not be large enough to expel the huge masses of steam and the mountain will explode like a bomb."

The condition of the poorer classes is pitiful and all the efforts of the government, and the generous aid of private citizens are not sufficient to relieve them.

EARTHQUAKE IN OREGON

Portland, Ore., April 23.—Between 1 and 1:15 this morning a distinct earthquake shock was felt through parts of Oregon. The shocks were so severe that Glendale houses rocked and chimneys in closets were broken. From Grant Pass comes word that shortly after 1 o'clock the earth quivered and shook violently. No loss of lives or property damage is reported, but uneasiness is felt that earthquakes have extended this far up the Pacific coast.

The Way Now..

If you want to get on in this practical world.

Get busy.
If you don't want from current to current be awfully busy.

Get busy.
One can't drift downstream now with lazy sails furled.
In a ship's cushioned corner most comfortably curled.
Without on a sudden on rocks being hurled.

So get busy.
Don't stop to smile proudly or pause to drop tears;
Get busy.

Realize on your hopes and discard all your fears;
Get busy.

It takes every minute to make up the years;
Watch for opportunity as it occurs;
Get busy.

For fortune's a woman. Would you win her smile?
Get busy.

To win this coquette and elude every wile,
Get busy.

To hunt up the dreamer, it isn't her style,
She prefers leading chases for hunters of guile;
So if you would catch her and capture her pile,
Get busy.

When Columbus saw worlds in reach,
What did he do?
Get busy.

And how did Napoleon an empire push through?
Get busy.

While many were talking and making ado
Over plans for great futures how did the smart few
Absorb all worth having that came into view?
Get busy.

Preferred the Lawn.

A prominent attorney entertained a party of friends at his summer home in Connecticut last July.

One hot afternoon a young lady languidly expressed a wish for some good reading matter, and a clergyman, who was one of the guests, forthwith proceeded to the library and obtained a bulky volume, which he placed in the grateful girl's hands.

"I'm sure you'll find it interesting," commented the divine.

"Thank you. I shall wade right into it," responded the girl, with alacrity.

Fifteen minutes later the young lady appeared on the veranda and asked of her host:

"I won't injure your lawn if I walk on it, will I?"

"Surely not," laughed the attorney.

"But I heard you say a few moments ago that you were going to wade into the Rev. Mr. Kelsey's book."

"Oh," confessed the girl, mischievously throwing her head to one side, "I'd rather wade through your lawn. There are less leaves in it, and they are not so dry."

Had His Reasons.

The modern infant was asked what he was crying about.

"I am merely illustrating the influence of environment," he explained. "I was an incubator baby, you know, and for one of my sex to cackle would be an anomaly. Don't happen to have a bottle of warm milk about you?"

—Boston Transcript.

Wise Child.

"Here, Willie," cried the boy's father. "You mustn't behave that way. Everybody will be calling you a little glutton. Do you know what that is?"

"I suppose," replied Willie, "it's a big glutton's little boy."

GREAT REVIVALS
IN PROGRESS

In Philadelphia Have a Counterpart in the Foreign Mission Fields.

New York, April 23.—The great revivals which have stirred some American cities in the past year or two, and which is now stirring the city of Philadelphia, is matched by similar movement on the Foreign Mission field. Among these is a revival in Pyong Yang, Korea. These meetings were held during the Korean holiday, and in the four Presbyterian churches of the city nearly 1,200 persons declared their intention to be Christians. The principal meetings were held in the evening, and there were classes for workers in the afternoons, and a house to house visitation was made all day by native helpers. In this connection it may be said that while missionaries sent out by the Presbyterian Foreign Board were at the meetings, the speaking was done almost wholly by native Korean leaders.

At the same time as the revival in the Korean city there were special meetings in the country round about, with the result that at Nong Kang Koi the church of 30 people has grown to 130. At Ko Chang a group of 10 has grown to 200. At Morai, the congregation of 150 has grown to 300. Similar increase of members might be reported from scores of places. An interesting phase of the Korean work is the fact that many natives contribute days' work to the cause instead of money. These days are spent in house to house work.

MISSIONARIES

Of the Presbyterian Church in Foreign Countries Now Number 2,500.

New York, April 23.—A resume just made of the work of the Foreign Missions carried on by the Presbyterian church in the United States, North, shows that the board is maintaining about 200 missionaries in 15 different countries, besides 2,500 native helpers in the various fields. There are close to 60,000 native Christians under its supervision, representing some 200,000 adherents.

The board also maintains 923 schools and colleges, 110 hospitals and dispensaries in which were treated last year 422,019 patients. In addition to these there are eight printing establishments which are turning out in the neighborhood of 125,000,000 pages of printed matter a year.

With the exception of the Church Missionary Society of England, the Presbyterian Board has been committed to it the largest work among Protestant Missions in the world. The cost of administration of this work is less than five per cent.

Regarding the financial support of this great work it may be said that during this year contributions from the home churches have steadily increased, but the success of the missionaries abroad has been so remarkable that the work on the field has gone far beyond the income of the board, and this in spite of the fact that no money whatever has been appropriated for new property or buildings, excepting such amounts as have been given to the Board especially designated for that purpose.

Unless some $240,000 are received between this date and May 1, the board will be obliged to close its fiscal year with a deficit of between five and ten thousand dollars, and this in spite of having refused earnest appeals from the field which have constantly come in for further extension of the work. Such a deficit is exceedingly undesirable, but in view of operations involving an expenditure of a million and a quarter dollars, such a small deficit is evidence of great care and restraint in management. In addition to the sum mentioned, the Board is sending out an appeal for $10,000 to the care of a deficit of the last two years.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

One of the most interesting and instructive talks given this year at the men's meeting was given yesterday by Rev. T. A. Casanova. His subject was "The Story of St. Grenfell of Labrador." From the boyhood account of this great doctor, evangelist to the description of his present remarkable work among the fishermen of the northern seas, the men present listened with rapt interest.

Grenfell came from a poor English family. He had no advantages and early in life was left homeless. He was compelled to start his battle for an existence without money or education—even of the poorest grade. He rose from the position of cabin boy and fisherman on an English fishing ship to that of doctor and admiral at the age of twenty-five. He was then married, expecting to live the life of a skipper. But even at this time he could neither read nor write.

The moral and religious life of the men on these fishing fleets was wholly lacking. There was no Sunday for rest from work and no evenings of pleasure, unless it were in the grogshop, which always accompanied the fleet. Through the agency of a missionboat, Grenfell and two companions were converted. From that time he determined to serve his needy fellows. He perceived their physical needs as well as their spiritual, and so first went back to his home-land to study medicine.

The remainder of the story recounted his voluntary offer to serve the poor fishermen on the storm-driven coasts of Labrador; how he scattered good cheer and comfort and medical aid among peoples who had never seen a Christian doctor before; how he founded three hospitals along the coast, and sent his little "doctor" boat through wind and storm, never fearing any peril so long as he could minister to the physical and spiritual needs of his fishermen friends and their families. His great work still continues.

Many thanks are due the Second Presbyterian choir for the two splendid anthems which they furnished.

New York's Offering.

New York, April 23.—New York city's fund for the relief of the California sufferers was greatly increased. In nearly all the Protestant churches the offerings were set aside for San Francisco, estimated at $40,000. The Catholic churches will take up collections next Sunday. In the Madison Square Presbyterian church alone, where Dr. C. H. Parkhurst took the disaster as the topic of his sermon, the offering was about $1,500.

Lessons Labors of Housewives. Springfield, O., April 23.—A novel contrivance has been patented by William N. Whitley of the Farmer Co-Operative Harvesting Machine company, by which the labors of the farmers' wives will be lessened. Motive power will be secured from a gasoline engine and the machine will rock the baby, wash dishes, scrub the clothes, separate the cream, operate a sewing machine and do other things.

Started Fire With Oil.

Wooster, O., April 23.—Mrs. John B. Hoffman, 50, of Mt. Eaton, O., was fatally burned and her daughter seriously injured when the former's clothing caught fire from an explosion as she started a fire in a stove with coal oil. Miss Hoffman dragged her mother to a spring in the yard and threw her into the water, extinguishing the flames, but not before she was fatally burned.

Knocked From Bridge.

Columbus, O., April 23.—Miss Mary Strang, 35, of South Third street, was struck by a southbound Scioto Valley traction car at Walnut bridge, north of Lancaster and probably fatally injured. She was walking across the bridge at the time of the accident and was hurled 20 feet to the ground below, where she was picked up in an unconscious condition.

Boys' School Burns.

Cincinnati, O., April 23.—Fire near Price Hill destroyed the Boys' Protective, conducted by the Brothers of St. Francis. Loss $100,000. Brother Gregory, an aged monk, dropped dead of heart failure during the fire. Three persons were injured.

Bloody Riot Followed.

Warsaw, April 23.—A procession of 2,000 Catholics from neighboring villages tried to recapture their church at Lesnos. A furious fight with Maravites ensued, in the course of which 12 persons were killed and 50 wounded.

Attend the benefit entertainment at the Auditorium Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of the California sufferers.

Wanted Proof.

Representative Clark Beeson of Kansas, the head of a forestry station that gives trees to farmers, in an address to a woman's congress said: "Trees are like children. In the beginning they give us a great deal of trouble and worry, and in the end we are very proud of them. Young trees are very anxious; young children are the same. I know of a man who sat in his study one afternoon writing a speech when his son called shrilly from the garden: 'Papa, papa, look out of the window now.'"

"What a nonsense children are!" grumbled the old man, but rapidly he put down his pen and with a half smile advanced to the window promptly and "looked forth his head."

"Well, John, what is it?" said he.

"The boy from a group of youngsters called up, 'Papa, Jimmie Smith did not believe that you had no hair on the top of your head.'"

It is calculated that England loses over 1,500 acres annually through the sea encroaching upon the coast.

WOMEN NOT TRUTHFUL

This Statement Has Been Unjustly Made, Because Modest Women Evade Questions Asked By Male Physicians.

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful; they will lie to their physician." This statement should be qualified; women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth, to a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex.

It is a terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women.

Is it any wonder, then, that women continue to suffer and that doctors fail to cure female diseases when they cannot get the proper information to work on?

This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To her they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients, through her correspondence with them, than the physician who personally questions them.

If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge.

The fact that this great book, which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, the thousands of letters received by her prove. Many such grateful letters as the following are constantly pouring in.

CHILD BURIED

After Her Death Had Been a Matter of Doubt Among the Doctors for Several Days.

New York, April 23.—After a thorough examination and positive tests it was agreed Sunday by the several attending physicians and Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon that Veronica McCann, 11 years old, of No. 218 West Eighteenth street, about whose death since last Wednesday there was much uncertainty, had in reality been dead for several days and had been in a cataleptic state as was believed by her family.

With the full consent of her family who were reconciled to the physician's declaration that their child was dead, Little Veronica was buried this afternoon in Calvary cemetery. The death was caused, the physicians assert, by heart disease, induced by acute rheumatism and strain.

Veronica McCann's death, physicians and medical students who observed her agree makes as peculiar a case as has come to their attention in many years. Although both Dr. John M. Fraser and Dr. W. W. Armstrong, pathologists of the Bellevue Hospital, were almost positively certain that the child was dead, their tests to determine death were so unsatisfactory that they hesitated to declare that she was not merely cataleptic. The funeral was, therefore, postponed.

"Upon the physician's statement," yesterday that the child was really dead, the Health Department issued a second permit for burial. The first having been canceled.

HAS MR. BECKEY GONE BACK HOME?

MAN WITH BILLS AMOUNTING TO ABOUT $600 SAID TO BE MOURNING.

Young Girl Employed by Beckey Found Crying From Hunger Monday.

Thomas Beckey, a Hungarian, who has been running a boarding house on Jefferson street, taking care of about 50 Hungarians, left Saturday night, and it is said, that he has gone to the old country. It is said that he has been doing business on the credit system and that men with bills amounting to $600 are wondering where he is. Among the Newark business men who suffer by his leaving the city is Pat Phalen, an East Side grocer, who is out about $95; John Santee, a butcher, in the West Side is also out a considerable sum.

Beckey had in his employ a Hungarian girl, to whom he had promised $20 a month, and to whom he owed several months wages. She is left destitute and friendless, and when the constable went to the boarding house Monday, he found her crying from hunger.

ADAMS CONFESSES UNDER IMMUNITY

Columbus, O., April 23.—John I. Adams, of the bridge contracting firm of Adams Brothers of Findlay, gave a complete expose of the operations of the Ohio Bridge Trust in a deposition this afternoon in the investigation conducted by Attorney General Ellis. The Adams company was a member of the pool and a party defendant in a suit to oust the trust constituents from their charters. The confession was made under an order of immunity granted under the Dever law. Ellis expressed his belief that Adams' disclosure would result in ousting the bridge trust.

BITTER QUARREL ENDS IN MURDER

MRS. FAHN TRIES TO KILL ENTIRE FAMILY AT PHILADELPHIA.

Husband Discovers Crime Just in Time To Save Lives of Two Sons.

Philadelphia, April 23.—Following a bitter quarrel with her husband, Mrs. Mary Fahm, 41, this morning, made a desperate attempt to kill her entire family by gas.

She succeeded in ending her own life and that of her two daughters, Tillie, 15, and Annie, 11, but the husband, Kraf Fahm, and two sons, Alois and Harry, 16 and 13, escaped with their lives, though the boys are in the hospital.

The quarrel between husband and wife occurred Saturday. All day yesterday Mrs. Fahm brooded over her troubles.

Last night she ordered all the children to bed. Mrs. Fahm went upstairs and it is supposed made preparation for the destruction of her family. Doors and windows were caulked up, and Mrs. Fahm lay down beside her two sleeping daughters, having first turned the gas on full in both her own room and that occupied by her sons.

Fahm was awakened this morning, smelled gas and broke down the doors and discovered the triple tragedy. Both sons were unconscious.

RELIEF MEETING AT GRANVILLE

Baptist Church Crowded at the Call of Mayor Jones—Committees Appointed.

Granville, April 23.—When the totals for the relief of the California sufferers will have been completed, Granville, as usual, will be among the places that have contributed their share. The people have opened both their hearts and their purses to the sufferers, and Granville, with the whole nation, extends the hand of sympathy to the stricken city.

Mayor Jones had issued a proclamation calling for a mass meeting of the people of Granville to be held on Sunday evening at the Baptist church. Services at the other churches were called off and the whole people met at the Baptist church to take action toward the relief of the stricken ones.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor J. M. Jones, who introduced Mr. B. M. Downer as chairman of the meeting. Besides those Dr. C. J. Baldwin, Rev. Mr. Eason, and Dr. C. L. Work occupied seats in the pulpit. After prayer by Dr. Eason and singing by the Denison glee club, Mr. Downer briefly stated the object of the meeting, and was followed by Dr. Baldwin, who endeavored to give an adequate conception of just what the calamity in San Francisco and other coast cities meant. "Place yourself in Granville," said he. "All at once the church steeples begin toppling and fall into the streets, other buildings fall and the earth rolls in waves like the sea. You become terror stricken and seek a place of safety, but there is no place of safety. The same state of affairs exists in Newark; you turn toward the north, the east, south and west, the same conditions exist everywhere. The panic, the terror, the chaos is awful. Families are torn apart. Death has rudely intruded. Grief is immeasurable, and as we are neither directly or indirectly involved in the horror endeavor to place ourselves in the position of the sorrow-stricken and be-leave, our hearts go out in most sincere sympathy.

At the conclusion of Dr. Baldwin's address and a fine solo by Mr. Bolger, the chairman appointed a number of solicitors to canvass for subscriptions among those in attendance at the meeting.

At the conclusion of the work the secretary of the meeting announced that the contributions in money and pledges amounted to $289.45, received from 178 contributors. The chairman announced that the pledges could be paid at the bank in Granville on Monday or Tuesday, and that the money subscribed would be sent to the American National Red Cross for distribution.

The result of the meeting proves that Granville is full of public spirited men and women who believe in the exemplification of the Golden Rule, which says, "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you."

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it.

CONVENTION

Of Republicans to Nominate Candidate for Circuit Judge Meets in Newark Tuesday.

Attorney A. A. Stasel will be a candidate before the Fifth Judicial convention which will meet in the convention room of the Court House on April 24. While the Newark man has made no systematic canvass for the nomination he is considered a most formidable candidate. He said Monday afternoon: "I am in an indifferent condition I don't even know who will present my name, and don't wish that I should be considered as reaching after the nomination."
